The Medical Brotherhood of this country wishes to gather into its union those members of the medical profession who have a vein of idealism in them and who are willing to serve their country as patriots and humanitarians. It appeals further to the inspired ones to spread this gospel, wherever they find opportunity, with impressiveness combined with patience and tolerance.

GRANTS FOR SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

DURING the past year, the sub-committee on research funds of the Committee of One Hundred of the American Association for the Advancement of Science has endeavored to secure information regarding research funds and particularly such as are available without substantial limitations as to the residence or institutional relations of the grantee.

The following list of endowments of the latter class, while doubtless incomplete, is believed to comprehend the more important with the exception of those devoted to medical research. From most of them grants of moderate sums for research may be made to suitable applicants. The list is arranged alphabetically according to location.

Unless otherwise stated the figures given refer to the principal of the endowment. The amounts are to be considered as approximate only.

For information regarding the conditions upon which grants may be made from any particular fund, application should be addressed to the officer indicated in the list.

The present article constitutes a portion of a report made at the Columbus meeting of the American Association. Other portions will be published later.

A MEETING of the members of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, residing in or near New York, was held at the American Museum of Natural History on Friday, May 5, at 5 P.M., to discuss plans for the New York meeting of the association in December. About fifty members were in attendance. Mr. Henry Fairfield Osborn was elected chairman and Mr. Henry E. Crampton secretary of the meeting.

The chairman called attention to the special interest of the forthcoming gathering as it involved an unusual number of scientific societies which were affiliated with the association. Called upon by the chairman to outline the present plans for the Convocation Week meetings, Mr. J. McK. Cattell stated that the committee on policy of the council had placed arrangements in the hands of an executive committee consisting of Messrs. Charles Baskerville, Nathaniel L. Britton, J. McKeen Cattell, Simon Flexner, Henry Fairfield Osborn, Michael I. Pupin, John J. Stevenson and Edmund B. Wilson. Certain details as yet unsettled were then presented for discussion by those in attendance, who represented the 1,350 local members of the association.

The cooperation of various institutions and scientific societies was tendered by Henry Fairfield Osborn, George F. Huntington, Alexander Smith, N. L. Britton, R. A. Wetzel, Charles L. Bristol, President Marsh, C. Stuart Gager and Professor Margaret B. Wilson. After discussion, it was voted that the executive committee be requested to consider the advisability of the appointment by the local
